DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-4 in the reply filed on 7/18/08 is acknowledged.

Claims 5-32 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 7/18/08.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 10-192036 (IDS cited reference).

With regard to claim 1, JP '036 discloses a hair inserter (30, fig. 13) for inserting a hair bundle comprising a hair holder having a flat tube (10) made of a sheet (11), the inserter having a main long body at one end portion thereof, a hair catching part (31) capable of catching a hair bundle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP '036 in view of GB 921911 (IDS cited reference).

JP '036 discloses the claimed invention except for a sliding member thicker and wider than the hair catching part slidable in the longitudinal direction of the hair inserter. GB '911 discloses a hair inserter (fig. 4) comprising a sliding member (6) being wider than a catching member (5) slidable in the longitudinal direction of the hair inserter. It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the sliding member as taught by GB '911 into the hair inserter of JP '036 in order to improve the insertion of the hair bundle. And it would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the thicker mater material for the sliding member, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP '036 in view of De Benedictis (USP 6,647,989).

JP '036 discloses the claimed invention except for the hair inserter being stiffer than the hair holder. De Benedictis discloses a hair holder (10) and a hair inserter (61), wherein the hair inserter being stiffer than the hair holder. It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the teaching of De Benedictis of using stiffer material for the inserter into the hair device of JP '036 in order to facilitation the hair insertion purpose.

Double Patenting

Applicant is advised that should claims 1-3 be found allowable, claims 1-3, will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).
